FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COMFORT SYSTEMS USA ACQUIRES MECHANICAL CONTRACTOR; COMMENTS ON OUTLOOK

Houston, TX — March 16, 2007 — Comfort Systems USA, Inc. (NYSE: FIX), a leading provider of commercial, industrial and institutional heating, ventilation and air conditioning ("HVAC") services, today announced that it has acquired Madera Mechanical Company ("Madera") based in Tucson, Arizona. Operating in Tucson, Arizona and Las Vegas, Nevada, Madera had 2006 revenues of approximately $16 million and, if it had been part of Comfort Systems in 2006 we believe it would have contributed earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of approximately $1 million to $1.2 million.

Bill Murdy, Comfort's Chairman and CEO, noted "We are very pleased to bring Madera Mechanical into the Comfort Systems USA family of companies. Under the leadership of Darrell Treu and Kevin Warner, Madera has built an excellent reputation for outstanding mechanical services in the Tucson and Las Vegas markets. We expect Madera will also benefit from ongoing growth in the Tucson area, and will complement our strong operations in the surrounding areas, most notably our outstanding operation in Phoenix, Tri-City Mechanical."

"More broadly, we continue to see good activity levels in our markets, and we feel confident that we are well positioned for improved profits for the full year of 2007 as compared to 2006. We are experiencing challenges in the first quarter and anticipate that we will most likely report first quarter earnings in 2007 that are less than what we reported in our unusually strong first quarter of 2006. The expected decrease this first quarter stems primarily from continuing disappointing results at our large multi-family operation, magnified by the fact that the first quarter is our seasonally lowest and most volatile quarterly reporting period."

Murdy concluded, "We think Madera is a great addition to our company, and we continue to expect and look forward to another year of improved performance for Comfort Systems USA."
